Dear Friends,

Thank you for being part of the Kentucky Humane Society family. Your support helped us achieve amazing things in 2016, all on behalf of companion animals and the people who love them.

I am constantly humbled by the hard work and compassion of our staff, volunteers and donors. Thanks to all your efforts, last year we found homes for over 6,300 grateful animals. In this annual report, you’ll learn more about our lifesaving efforts, which your support helps make possible.

As wonderful as 2016 was for our animals, I am also excited to share with you some of our 2017 projects:

In March 2017, we renamed our Main Campus on Steedly Drive the Sam Swope Pet Treatment & Lifesaving Center (TLC) in honor of the late Sam Swope, who made a legacy gift to help our most fragile animals. The Sam Swope Pet TLC is our “hub” for all incoming animals – readying dogs and cats for adoption at our 10 offsite adoption centers, located throughout the Louisville area. It is also the place where our animals who need extra TLC, including medical care, receive leading-edge care.

The Sam Swope Pet TLC also houses our new Healthy Pets Clinic. Five days a week, the clinic offers low-cost vaccines and basic preventatives as well as diagnostics and treatment of minor medical needs for local pets. The goal is to ensure that an owner’s financial limitations are not a barrier to their beloved pets receiving lifesaving preventative care.

And earlier this year, we announced the opening of the Sam Swope Pet Retreat, a unique behavioral rehabilitation center where animals can recover from neglect, abuse and lack of socialization. In the first few months of the Sam Swope Pet Retreat being open, we have already seen amazing results. It is so rewarding to prepare an animal for adoption and then introduce them to their excited family.

We would love to give you a tour of either facility and chat with you about how you can be part of the Kentucky Humane Society’s future. Please call 502-515-3131 to schedule a tour or to learn more about how you can help Kentucky’s animals.

I am grateful for your passion for companion animals. Thank you for all that you do to help those who cannot help themselves.

In gratitude,

Lori Kane Redmon
President & CEO

Finding Forever Homes

Throughout 2016, the Kentucky Humane Society worked tirelessly to find loving, permanent homes for the animals under our care. In all, 6,071 dogs, cats and horses were adopted through KHS last year; 123 animals were transferred to other agencies for specialized placement and 125 lost dogs and cats were reunited with their owners. In all, we saved 96% of the animals who came through our doors. Whatever the reason an animal comes to KHS, the pet stays available for adoption for as long as needed. For the fifth year in a row, we met our goal of finding homes for every adoptable pet.

* KHS calculates our save rate (also known as the live release rate) on the number of adoptions, transfer of animals to rescue groups and animals who are returned to their owners.

Saving Kentucky’s Shelter Animals

Saving the lives of animals in Kentucky means more than accepting surrendered pets and taking in strays. It also means helping at-risk animals throughout the state – particularly those in overcrowded municipal shelters where adoption options are few. From Kenton County in far northern Kentucky, to Calloway County at the farthest south, the Kentucky Humane Society worked with shelters and rescues from 31 Kentucky counties in 2016. Some shelters bring their pets to us. In other cases, our dedicated staff and volunteers make the trip to collect these animals. Once the dogs and cats arrive at KHS, they are evaluated, given the care they need, and then our adoptions staff find them loving homes.

At the Kentucky Humane Society, we are expanding our circle of influence across the state and helping more and more rural shelters and rescues find homes for the pets they care for.

31 Counties

In 2016, we partnered with shelters and rescues in 31 counties across Kentucky to bring in and save more dogs and cats throughout the Commonwealth.

Helping Kentucky’s Horses

The Kentucky Humane Society’s Equine C.A.R.E. Program assists at-risk horses throughout the state. From providing salt and hay during the winter months to Eastern Kentucky’s free-roaming horses, to caring for orphaned foals until they are old enough to be adopted or sent to trusted rescue partners, our team works hard all year long to ensure the health and safety of Kentucky’s companion horses.

In addition to finding adoptive homes for abandoned or unwanted horses, our team worked with horse owners in Kentucky to help end horse overpopulation through gelding – or castration – clinics. By making this service available and free, we are helping reduce the number of unwanted horses in our state.

143 horses assisted

21 Counties served through adoption, transport, rescue, gelding or wellness checks

25 Orphaned foals were saved

Proactive Programs

Our proactive programs are designed to help families have healthy, happy, lifelong relationships with their animals, and thus reduce the number of pets surrendered to shelters. We counsel pet parents about available resources through our free Pet Help Line. We educate children on the role of pet guardianship. And we offer positive dog training classes (both group and individual) and consultations to help families bond with their dogs and address unwanted behaviors.

Our S.N.I.P. Clinic helps to stem pet overpopulation by providing low-cost spay/neuter services for owned pets and community cats. Our Healthy Pets Clinic provides affordable vaccines and preventative medicine to owned cats and dogs, helping keep them healthy and in their homes.

Providing Extra TLC

The Kentucky Humane Society strives to help even the most fragile of companion animals, giving them an opportunity to find forever homes.

Our veterinary team and specialists around the area provide healing treatment to animals who came to us sick and injured. Because of our TLC Fund, in 2016 we were able to offer 210 companion animals the specialized care they needed to heal and be prepared for families of their own. Injuries and illnesses ranged from correcting heart defects to saving mangled limbs and everything in between.

We also provide rehabilitation for behaviorally challenged shelter pets. Many animals come to us with broken spirits and disruptive behaviors that with time, love and specialized care can be repaired. Through our donor-supported TLC Fund, 327 shelter dogs learned that humans are good and can be trusted and how to behave in safe and appropriate ways. This fund ensures that every animal receives the second chance they deserve.

Our Amazing Volunteers

Volunteers play a vital role in caring for our shelter pets and ensuring that the Kentucky Humane Society remains a strong, active part of our community. Our volunteers care for and enrich the lives of animals in our shelter and in our adoption centers. Volunteers also bring animals into their homes to care for them and prepare them for adoption. Others help us with office tasks and veterinary care, or transport animals from rural shelters to our doors so we can care for them. Volunteers also help with fundraisers and are ambassadors in the community. In total, volunteers worked 85,725 hours for the Kentucky Humane Society in 2016.

We value our volunteers and thank each and every one of them for the time and effort they devote to our mission. Their involvement helps us save more than 6,000 dogs, cats and horses each year.
