Did you know we also have two pet resorts, Doggie Daycare, behavior training, the S.N.I.P. clinic, grooming services, education classes and summer camps?

These programs promote a healthy, happy and educated community while also helping to raise funds to support the Kentucky Humane Society’s mission.

Please support these programs when possible - visit kyhumane.org or call (502) 366-3355 for more information.

Lots of tail wags to Carol Noffsinger for assisting with the Canine Coach program at our Main Campus. Carol is one of our many dedicated Canine Coach volunteers who helps give potty breaks and socialization to the animals who are awaiting their forever home. If it wasn’t for our Canine Coach program, these pets would not get all of the love and attention that they deserve. The pups are lucky to have such a dedicated volunteer like Carol!

The adoptions staff would like to thank Melinda and Margo Sansom for assisting with the adoption matchmaker program. Since 2007, this duo has volunteered their time to help prospective adopters find their forever home. Thanks to all the adoption volunteers who help our animals find their homes faster!

The Kentucky Humane Society hosts several special events that wouldn’t be possible without the help of our committed volunteers. This department would like to give special thanks to Jennifer and Meagan White, who always seem to step up to the plate for any event that KHS hosts. We couldn’t do it without you!

All the canines and felines at the Kentucky Humane Society would like to thank Tammy Burke for giving them great photos! Tammy appreciates the support from her employer, Webster University, for her time at KHS. Because of Webster’s dedication to promoting volunteerism, Tammy is able to spend a few hours each week assisting in our pet photography program, ensuring that pets have attractive photos.

The Kentucky Humane Society relies on the generosity of our wonderful volunteers. From canine coaches to foster care parents, we couldn’t do it without you!

ASK THE EXPERTS
KHS Staff Answer Your Questions

Q: My dog loves to try to sneak out the front door when people are coming in. I’m going to have a lot of family visiting over the holidays. Is there anything I can do to stop him from escaping?

A: Door dashing is a common behavior, mainly because it usually results in a great deal of fun (for the dog, anyway) as the entire family chases him down the street. In order to curb this behavior, you have to combine management and training to teach your dog that it is even more fun to stay inside.

Management means finding ways to prevent your dog from practicing the undesirable behavior. Baby gates, doors and crates are all great options. You shouldn’t have to manage your dog all the time, but on occasions when you will simply be too busy to practice training, there is nothing wrong with putting your dog in a crate with a Kong while your guests arrive.

The “wait” command teaches the dog that there is an invisible barrier at the door and that he can only go outside when given permission. To teach this behavior, put your dog on his leash and walk up to a doorway (practice at an interior doorway at first before moving to your front door). Say “wait” and then turn so that your chest is squarely facing your dog’s chest. Take one step backwards. If your dog tries to follow along, step towards him and body block him until he backs up. Continue this exercise until your dog is able to remain in place while you move away. When this happens, say “yes!” and give your dog a piece of treat. Then say “ok” and allow him to walk through the door.

As you practice, try to gradually increase the duration of the behavior. Before long, you’ll have a pet that happily waits for permission before walking through a door!

BY THE NUMBERS
(June 2011 - August 2011)
1,582 cats and dogs were adopted at one of our nine permanent adoption sites. 940 of these pets were dogs and 642 were cats.

2,233 pets were spayed or neutered at our high-quality, low-cost S.N.I.P. Clinic. Since opening in 2007, the clinic has altered more than 38,000 cats and dogs.

465 children attended the Kentucky Humane Society’s educational summer camps. 432 of these children attended Animal Adventure Camp (for ages 6-12) and learned about shelter pets, proper pet care and handling and more. 33 of these children attended Animal Advocate Camp (for ages 12-16) to learn about a variety of animal-related careers.
FROM THE DESK OF
Lori Redmon, President-CEO

Dear Friends:

I hope the fall finds you and your pets well and happy. The summer heat is finally behind us and fall weather brings a bit of relief to outdoor pets as well as more dog walks in the park.

I try to say “Thank you” as often as possible to the many people - like you - who make the Kentucky Humane Society a good place for people and pets. Today I’d like to single out a very special group of people who make KHS a world-class non-profit: Our volunteers.

Without our volunteers, dogs at our nine adoption centers in the Louisville area might not get walks every day, which not only keep them happier and healthier, but also more adoptable.

Without our volunteers, it would be difficult to give cats as much handling and time outside their cages - and the love we give our feline friends also makes them more adoptable.

Without our volunteers, we’d have trouble staffing events ranging from adoption promotions that help pets find homes faster to our signature events that bring in much-needed funding for the animals in our care.

Without volunteers, we wouldn’t have foster homes for the many pets not ready for adoption for health or age-related reasons; or assistance at the S.N.I.P. Clinic to help reduce overpopulation through spay and neuter surgeries.

Without volunteers, our animals likely wouldn’t get the treats and toys that make their waiting for a forever home far more pleasant – or photos on our website that make them more adoptable to folks visiting us through the internet.

Without volunteers, our behavior trainers wouldn’t have the helping hands they need to make the experience pleasant for person and pet alike.

Without volunteers, there’d be no Kentucky Humane Society as you know it.

Every day I see KHS volunteers walking dogs, cleaning cages, cuddling cats and helping out in any way they can. And every day, their diligence and joy inspires me and the rest of the Kentucky Humane Society staff to work a little harder and appreciate our jobs a little more. So if you have a moment, the next time you see a KHS volunteer making the life of an adoptable dog or cat a little happier, stop and say, “Thank you.”

(If you’d like to become a KHS volunteer, please contact our Volunteer Coordinator Jennifer Clark at (502) 515-3145.)

Sincerely,

Lori Kane Redmon
President, Kentucky Humane Society
FROM THE MAILBOX: Sharing “Happy Tails” And More!

A Special Reuben

The last time I visited the Kentucky Humane Society (probably about a year ago), I was talking to a few employees about a cat that I adopted there in early 2009. Hopefully, the employees I spoke to are still there and remember a kitten named Reuben James. I told them I would send some pictures of him all grown up. Let me tell you, he is one big spoiled baby. I also have a cat named Monopoly, who I adopted through KHS at the Preston Highway Feeders Supply. Although you may not remember Monopoly, the workers I talked to spoke as if they never would forget baby Reuben. I hope these pictures will do him some justice because he is a cutie, very photogenic too! In case you are wondering, both cats are doing great! They are both healthy and perfect. I want to also thank everyone at the Kentucky Humane Society for two amazing cats and all the great things you do for the animals. I hope you enjoy the photos!

– Ashley Brown

Peas in a Pod

I just thought I would send you some recent photos of Phoebe (previously “Helen”) and an update on how she’s doing.

She’s halfway through her first round of obedience classes. We joke that she seems to have a touch of attention-deficit-disorder! Actually, she heels nicely and always comes when called at home, but in class with all the distractions…oh my! But for the most part it’s going pretty well. She really is a lover and is so affectionate with everyone she meets.

This photo shows her with her “brother and sister,” Eliott and Olivia. I think in another year, once she has settled down and gotten some of the puppiness out of her system, she’s going to make a fabulous therapy pet.

Become a Kentucky Humane Society Foster Parent

This year, hundreds of orphaned kittens, puppies, dogs and cats will need a temporary home for a few days or weeks. YOU can make a difference in the number of animals we save. Open your home and your heart…temporarily.

Call (502) 366-3355 to learn more.
Santa Claus is coming to town in early December to help raise money for thousands of homeless pets! During the 24th annual Picture Your Pets With Santa, professional photographers will take portraits of your furry friend with Old Saint Nick. Take home a holiday keepsake and help cats and dogs in need at the same time!

Picture Your Pets With Santa will take place on December 3-4 and 10-11 at all area Feeders Supply store locations. Hours are Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sundays, noon to 4 p.m. Photographs are available in various packages starting at only $12, and on personalized gift items starting at just $9. Hundreds of volunteers are needed to help make this holiday fundraiser a success. If you are interested in volunteering, contact the KHS Volunteer Manager at (502) 515-3145 or jclark@kyhumane.org.

Proceeds benefit the Kentucky Humane Society, as well as Floyd County Animal Rescue League, HOPE for Pets (Bullitt County, Ky.) and the Animal Protection Association of Clark County.

When I walked into work on September 1, I was expecting a laid back and normal day. The long Labor Day weekend was approaching and mine had nothing but swimming, spending time with friends and much-deserved relaxation on its agenda. Then – I walked into work.

As I walked through the door, Behavior Leader Kat Rooks told me with great concern about the little Chihuahua she had just found, who would soon become my foster baby. Kat found this little pup in the exercise yard at the KHS Main Campus. This yard has a tall privacy fence, leaving us only to assume that she had been tossed over it. Not only was this a horrid thing to do to a dog, but also the tiny little Chihuahua who was completely emaciated. Kat found her hovering in a chair outside looking scared, worried and very hungry.

Since she knows I have a special place in my heart for small dogs and especially Chihuahuas, Kat immediately thought of me as a possible foster for this baby while she recovered and gained weight. Of course I immediately said that I would do it and asked to see her. We walked over to the admissions building, where I saw the tiny little creature, missing hair randomly in spots, sitting in an office chair. Everyone in the admissions department was giving her love and babying her as she gobbled soft food from a tongue depressor. You could see every rib, every bone in her back – even the bones in her hairless tail.

I set up a little bed on my desk for her to rest in and she remained timid but friendly all day. She worried all of us after having an allergic reaction to one of her vaccinations, but bounced back quickly with some medication and fluids. When I took her home that evening, she had no interest in the soft dog food I had been sent home with. I called Kat to see what kind of “human food” would be okay to give her and she suggested turkey slices. I ran to the grocery, picked up some turkey and Audrey (as we had decided to call her) devoured every last bite I allowed her.

Over the next few days, Audrey’s personality quickly began to emerge. She was friendly, energetic and loved to play with toys. She also tried to play with my nearly 12-year-old Chihuahua/Jack Russell Terrier mix, Bingo. I should tell you that I have had Bingo for about seven years and have never seen him play with another dog. He prefers to be around people and I always felt he didn’t know how to play. Bingo did not want to play with Audrey at first…but she was determined. One day I realized that she must have worn him down and he was playing with her! Audrey had gotten my grumpy old man to let loose a little bit and it literally brought a tear to my eye.

Audrey is doing wonderfully and I am well on my way to becoming a “foster failure.” Just like her old Hollywood namesake, Audrey is beautiful, charming, funny and incredibly sweet. I’m so sad that someone did these things to her, but so happy that KHS was here to help her become happy and healthy again.
Tuxes and Tails Benefit Auction and Gala

2012 Event is a Huge Success for KHS Animals

Hundreds of pet lovers turned out to party for the animals “Las Vegas style” at the Kentucky Humane Society’s Tuxes and Tails Benefit Auction! This year’s Las Vegas theme was a hit as guests enjoyed dinner, silent and live auctions, adoptable animals, dancing and, most of all, the theme drink of the night - the “Big Kitty Mojito!”

The 18th annual fundraising event was held August 27 at the Galt House in the beautiful Archibald Cochran Ballroom. The black-tie affair was presented by Brown-Forman.
Thanks to everyone’s support, KHS raised $175,000 through a silent and live auction. Auction items included a trip to the 2011 Masters Golf Tournament, an African safari, and trips to Costa Rica and Belize. The much-needed funds will help support mission programs, including adoptions, education and spay/neuter efforts.

Special thanks to emcees Ron and Mel Fisher from 84WHAS, who emceed the live auction. We hope to see everyone at next year’s event and, in the meantime, don’t forget - what happens at Tuxes and Tails, stays at Tuxes and Tails!

NEWS BRIEFS: What’s Happening at KHS

Thank you!

All of the people and pets at the Kentucky Humane Society wanted to send a huge thank you to the Manuel High School volleyball team! These wonderful students brought a huge donation to the shelter recently consisting of food, treats, toys, cat litter and lots of other goodies. We could not carry out our mission without the generosity of our community - thank you for all your hard work!

If this fun and rewarding opportunity sounds like a job for you, contact Kim Ulrich, Community Outreach Manager at outreachmanager@kyhumane.org for more information.

KHS In Search of Volunteer Ambassadors

The KHS Community Outreach team is looking for very special volunteers to participate in our Volunteer Ambassador program. Volunteer Ambassadors would serve as a community liaison for KHS, representing our organization at community events throughout the year.

Ideal candidates to be a Volunteer Ambassador are outgoing, love to meet and talk to new people and are well-versed in the mission, vision, programs and policies of KHS. Particularly during the Spring and Fall, Volunteer Ambassadors would be called upon as-needed to serve on Saturdays.

If you would like to be a part of making this event a success, please contact Jennifer Clark at jclark@Kyhumane.org or 515-3145.

Don’t Forget to Make Your Holiday Appointments!

The Kentucky Humane Society (KHS) offers lots of great services that come in handy during the holidays! Your best friend can enjoy a playdate while you get some shopping done by arranging for him to visit our Doggie Daycare. You can make sure your pets look their best by making a grooming appointment with one of our wonderful groomers. You can even know that your pets are well taken care of while you are out of town during the holidays if they are staying at one of our pet resorts. Best of all: Any fees charged for these services go directly back into KHS mission programs! Call locations below or visit kyhumane.org for more information on any of these services:
