VOLUNTEER DE-TAILS

Volunteer Spotlight: Julie Weihe

One of the few everyday consistencies at the Kentucky Humane Society (KHS) is a need for each dog to enjoy some time outside. They don’t care whether it is raining, snowing or windy, they just want to stretch their legs. Julie Weihe is one of our dedicated Canine Coach volunteers who is happily willing to get the dogs outdoors no matter the weather. Her determination to help KHS’ animals is more important to her than getting a little bit wet or cold outdoors. Julie has been a Canine Coach volunteer with KHS for more than four years as a Canine Coach. Volunteers in this position are specially trained in how to walk and safely handle dogs.

“I wanted to do more than just give money,” Julie says. “I wanted to do something active to help.” She achieves this mission on a regular basis with a sunny disposition and positive attitude. She is also a huge help by walking some of the larger dogs. Many volunteers may be apprehensive (understandably so!) about walking a 130 pound Great Dane – but not Julie! She has three large dogs of her own and is more than comfortable taking our larger pets for a walk around the block. Her “practice dogs” at home – Jacob, a Great Dane mix, Nikon, a Labrador Retriever mix and Caesar, a Rottweiller – are obviously her pride and joy.

“Jacob was a foster failure,” she says. She fostered the pup during the flood in September 2009. KHS was taking in animals from Louisville Metro Animal Services, which had been affected by rising waters, and needed to place some animals in our shelter with foster parents.

“Kat (KHS Behavior Leader) gave him to me to foster because she knew he was the kind of dog I like,” she says. And the rest is history.

Julie also fondly looks back on one of her favorite shelter dogs, a black Lab mix named Diesel. “He was one of my favorite success stories,” she says. Diesel was very hyper and didn’t pay much attention to people. No one could seem to calm him down to pet him. He was at the shelter roughly three to four months, as she remembers. Eventually, she says, he calmed down enough to be loved on and found his forever home!”

Stories like these are what keep Julie and all of our wonderful volunteers returning each week to help our animals. Thanks so much to each one of you!

Two Paws Up to Wayne Bonnett and Stephanie Dobbins! Wayne and Stephanie are great volunteers because of their reliability and commitment to the photography program. Together, this efficient team snaps photos of the animals waiting for adoption every other Saturday so that they can be featured on our website. These photos ultimately lead to animals finding their forever home more quickly!

Two Paws Up to Beth Gillon! Beth has an intense commitment to the Canine Coach program. She spends nearly all of her Saturday afternoons helping exercise and socialize our adult dogs at the Main Campus. This helps our four-legged friends be more well-mannered leading to quicker adoption. Thanks Beth!
ASK THE EXPERTS

KHS Staff Answer Your Questions

Q: Every time I try to take my dog for a walk, she drags me around the block. My arms hurt and she pulls so hard that it sounds like she’s choking. What can I do?

A: Loose leash walking is a challenging concept for any dog owner. Dogs are excitable, high-energy animals that love to explore the world around them. In a dog’s eyes, our walks make no sense — we walk too slowly; we go in a straight, boring line; and we don’t stop to sniff nearly enough fire hydrants!

To teach your dog to walk nicely, you first need to remember that walking is a reward in and of itself. If an action allows your dog to continue walking, she is going to continue to perform that action. Therefore, if your dog pulls and you keep walking along, she begins to think that pulling gets her the chance to see more interesting things. To change this behavior, you’ll need to first take away the rewards for pulling and add in rewards for walking on a slack leash.

Begin walking but keep a close eye on your dog. If she starts to move ahead of you, immediately do a U-turn and walk in the other direction. The U-turn takes her away from the item that she is pulling towards. U-turns on their own aren’t enough as they just tell the dog when she did something wrong. You’ll also need to add in rewards for polite behavior so she knows what she should be doing instead. Keep a small bag of treats handy. If your dog is walking next to you without pulling, give her small pieces of treat. You can also praise her enthusiastically when she is next to you. As you keep this up, you’ll notice your dog spending more and more time walking with you instead of dragging you down the street.

BY THE NUMBERS

(December 2010 - February 2011)

1,507
cats and dogs were adopted at one of our nine permanent adoption sites. Of that, 479 were felines and 1,028 were canines.

126 pets found homes during our Find Your (Furry) Lover adoption special in February.

1,937
pets were spayed or neutered at our high-quality, low-cost S.N.I.P. Clinic. Since opening in 2007, the clinic has altered nearly 35,000 cats and dogs.

2,095
customers visited Feeders Supply stores for Picture Your Pet with Santa this December. This annual event raised more than $50,000 for needy pets at the Kentucky Humane Society, as well as Floyd County Animal Rescue League, HOPE for Pets (Bullitt County) and Animal Protection Association of Clark County.

Enjoying summertime with KHS and our four-legged friends

The cold winter days have finally decided to make way for more sunny ones, which means lots of fun things are ahead for the Kentucky Humane Society (KHS)!

Always a hit, Dog Day at the Park is back again this year. KHS will be at Louisville Slugger Field on April 27 and June 1 to enjoy a baseball game with the Louisville Bats, our wonderful supporters and their four-legged friends. The stadium welcomes dogs on these special days only, and the cost of their ticket directly funds the KHS mission of helping needy animals in our community. Stay for the entire game or just a few innings and enjoy the company of many of Louisville's other pet lovers!

One of our favorite events, the Waggin' Trail Walk for the Animals, is just around the corner. This year's event will be held on May 21 at E.P. "Tom" Sawyer State Park and is sure to be a great time yet again. In addition to the walk we will also have agility and behavior training demonstrations, contests, vendor booths, entertainment, food and activities to ensure a great day. A registration fee of only $25 will get you an official KHS Waggin’ Trail t-shirt, but we also encourage you to fundraise as much as possible. As one of our largest events of the year, the Waggin’ Trail provides a large portion of the much needed funds necessary for our mission to be successful. With your help, we can help even more animals each and every year.

And finally, it’s time to get your photos for the 2012 Pet Calendar Contest. Check out the entry form included in this issue of the Paw Street Journal. It’s a staff highlight to see the fun and creative photos you come up with! All entries will be included in next year’s calendar regardless of whether your furry friend is chosen as a “pet of the month,” so give them their moment in the spotlight!

We hope to see you during at least one of our events. These offer us a chance to have fun, enjoy our pets and enjoy one another while also actively helping homeless animals in our community.

Regards,

FROM THE DESK OF
Lori Kane Redmon, President-CEO

P.S. Be sure to mark your calendars for our Main Campus Grand Reopening on May 14! Lots of activities for you and your pet are in store!
Two Peas in a Pod

A couple months ago, I had Kahn, my 13-year old cat, put down for health reasons. He had gone from 15 pounds to less than five pounds over the years and he was suffering, so I made that very hard decision. I knew I’d be ready for some new “fur friends” after the holidays, so on December 28, I visited the East Campus in Lyndon and brought home my two new kittens. You had named them Ginger and Poker, though they are now Lola and Rocco. They are from different litters: Rocco was found on the streets in downtown Louisville and Lola was one of seven kittens from a litter brought in a few days before Christmas. They are getting along wonderfully and are enjoying each other as adopted siblings. I think they love their new home, and they have enriched my life immensely. So thank you very much for all you do to put pets and people together!

Words of inspiration for KHS supporters from Rick Maynard

What’s your favorite day of the year? Is it Christmas day? Your birthday? The first day of vacation? You know what mine is? The day of the Kentucky Humane Society’s Waggin’ Trail Walk for the Animals.

I love KHS and all they do for homeless animals in my hometown. And I owe them so much for introducing me to two of my best friends – Cotton and Steel. I can’t imagine my life without them, so I spend a lot of time showing my thanks to the Kentucky Humane Society.

And while I love attending any KHS event, there is something really special about the Waggin’ Trail. Where else can you hang out with several hundred dogs and the people who worship them? If you’re an animal lover, these are your people.

Over the past six years, our KFC/Yum! team has raised more than $50,000 for the Kentucky Humane Society. That seems like a big number, but it’s actually easy – and fun – to raise money for the Waggin’ Trail.

The website makes it simple to invite donations. Just form a team and hit up everyone on your contact list – friends, family members, doctors, dentists, Facebook friends, vendors, people who owe you favors. You can ask for donations without looking anyone in the eye. It’s beautiful.

My friends know I am a huge supporter of KHS and they also know that I ask them only once a year for a donation. I think they write the check for the 5K in part to ensure I don’t bother them the rest of the year. I’ve mastered the art of telling heart-warming stories about my own pets in my e-mail solicitations. My dog Steel is personally responsible for thousands of dollars in donations. My friends can say no to me, but they are powerless to say no when Steel asks.

I urge you to form your own team and get creative in your Waggin’ Trail fundraising. You might be surprised how fun and easy it can be to ask people for money! (It really is “a walk in the park.”)

And then, on the day of the event, you just show up with your pooch, hang out with some amazing dogs and people and enjoy the day.

Send your story, letter and/or photographs to info@kyhumane.org, and they may be published! Please make the subject line “From the Mailbox” and include your name, address and telephone number. Letters may be edited for clarity and space.
When I first walked into the Main Campus, all I was expecting was to cuddle irresistible puppies and kittens all day long. I thought the Kentucky Humane Society (KHS) was just another animal shelter where they rescued abused animals. I am happy to say they proved me wrong.

When I look back on my days as a camper, playing with the animals wasn’t the most important or even fun part of the week. It was learning about all the animals that are in need of our help, every single day. Even though I was younger, KHS’ message reached me. This isn’t the “pound”, where an unclaimed animal might get put to sleep. No. This is a place where animals are gladly put first.

These camps aren’t just a place to play with animals. They are a proactive way to advocate the seriousness of animal abuse to the next generation who will decide if this torturous neglect will continue.

When I was 11-years-old, I experienced my first Animal Adventure camp. This is more of a “beginners” camp, where campers play fun, educational games to learn the basic necessities of owning a pet by playing Bingo and learn about animal-related careers. This camp complimented my growing love for animals and then some. I loved it so much I went back two more times. It gave me an outlet for my appreciation of all things furry. I flourished in the environment.

The following summer, I signed up for the most advanced camp, Animal Advocate. It allows campers to have several hands-on activities that many other people don’t get to see or learn about. We talked in-depth about tragic animal abuse cases and realize how beneficial it would be for us to be animal advocates and stick up for the creatures that can’t voice their opinion. Campers go on a tour of the whole shelter. We saw firsthand the various reason animals are surrendered. Some can’t afford to take care of their animal, don’t like the fact that they shed or claim that the pet is too “boisterous” for their family. Each person and pet that comes into Admissions is treated with love and care. We also got to sit in on the adoption process and watching the bond between animal and owner develop.

These camps have affected me for the better. They have opened my eyes to the crushing situation that shouldn’t be avoided. Because of that, I am happy to say that I have been able to teach others about these cases as a junior camp counselor. I hope I can impact other campers the way I have been.

Overall, if you want to become involved with preventing neglect to animals, you should come to these camps. This generation needs to realize that Kentucky is one of the states with the worst animal cruelty laws. These animals don’t deserve this kind of negative attention from people, and we need to be their voice.

Make Your Pet a Pin-Up!

Do you have a great photo of your favorite feline or most precious pooch? Or a furry friend who missed their calling as a super “ani-model”? Don’t miss this chance to guarantee your favorite animal friend a spot in the sought-after annual calendar that honors the area’s favorite pets!

Submit your entry online at www.kyhumane.org or complete the following form and include the entry fee of $25 per picture, and your pet is guaranteed to be included on the pages of the Kentucky Humane Society’s 2012 calendar! All proceeds support KHS, and best of all, by entering the “Make Your Pet a Pin-Up” contest, you’ll automatically receive a free 2012 calendar!

Tips for Photographing Your Pet:

Location & Background
• Look for a location where your pet will be relaxed and natural.
• Photograph your pet against a color that contrasts with his coat.

It’s in the Eyes
• Focus on your pet’s eyes, as they will convey his personality the best.
• Avoid shooting in low light situations where flash is required and your pet’s eyes are likely to glow.

Black & White Coats
• When working with dark animals, make adjustments to properly expose the image.
• When photographing animals with very light coats, make sure the lighting is not too bright.

Patience is a Virtue
• Don’t get frustrated. Stay relaxed and have fun and your pet will too!
• Enlist a helper or squeak toys to get your pet to look toward the camera.

THE RULES:
You can enter this contest by submitting a digital or hardcopy photo. All entries must be in color, with a horizontal layout and contain ONLY animals. Hardcopy photos should be no smaller than a 4x6 inch photograph. We do not accept Polaroid photos or copyrighted-professional photographs. Photos cannot be returned. For clarity and quality photo reproduction, please do not stamp or write on the back of photos. For digital photos, we require well-focused, sharp images that are at least 300 dpi (dots per inch) and in JPEG (JPG) or TIFF format. Send digital images to pr@kyhumane.org and include the name on your entry form.

All entries that meet these requirements and are postmarked by July 31, 2011 will be included in the 2012 Calendar. Winners will be notified by phone or e-mail, and the calendar will be available in November 2011.

All entries will be blind judged by KHS staff, with the top 11 photos featured as “Pets of the Month” and 12 runners-up included in smaller photos within the calendar portion of each month’s page. All other photos will be included in the calendar as part of the “Lifelong Friends Collage.”

Saving lives truly can be a walk in the park. The funds raised go directly to the Kentucky Humane Society’s proactive adoption, spay/neuter and education programs. Every donation, large or small, will help an animal in need at our shelter.

Waggin’ Trail is for everyone – young and old, two- and four-legged. You’ll be joined by hundreds of area pet lovers on a journey to save lives. Join us for a great time celebrating our four-legged friends.

Waggin’ Trail Activities include a non-competitive walk, timed 5K Run, adoptable pets, family-friendly activities, demos, trainings and more!

Visit kyhumane.org and click on the Waggin’ Trail logo and register today. Your $25 registration fee includes a Waggin’ Trail t-shirt and a personal fundraising web page. Use this page to tell your story, upload photos, invite friends to participate and ask for donations.

While you’re there, check out the “adoption option” pet parade...

Hill’s Science Diet, proud sponsor of Waggin’ Trail, once again hosts the popular “Adoption Option” pet parade as part of the day’s festivities.

With the community’s help, KHS found loving families for a record number of pets in 2010. Yet only 25% of new pet owners will choose the adoption option. The pet parade highlights some very special KHS pets looking for forever homes and the many benefits and special animals you can find through adoption.

The pets at KHS receive plenty of support to live a happy and fulfilled life both before and after adoption. All adoptable animals are fed high-quality, nutritious meals of Hill’s Science Diet pet food during their stay, and all KHS adopters receive a free bag of Hill’s Science Diet to take home with their new best friend! Help us give a shelter pet the healthy and happy life they deserve—choose the adoption option! Your perfect companion is waiting for you at Waggin’ Trail!

Thank you to our sponsors for making this event possible:
NEWS BRIEFS: What’s Happening at KHS

A Group of Special Dogs Find Love in Louisville

The Kentucky Humane Society had a unique opportunity to give 20 Missouri puppy mill dogs a second chance at a real life in a loving, forever home.

During a conversation with a former colleague, Patty Forister (KHS’ new Operations Director) learned that her former “home shelter” was in need of help housing some very special dogs. New legislation had passed for Missouri breeders and many knew they could not meet the upgraded requirements. The breeders voluntarily surrendered 124 dogs to the Central Missouri Humane Society (CMHS), and Patty was asked if KHS had room to give extra help, love and attention to these dogs. She gladly and eagerly offered help to 20.

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) made arrangements for the transport and days later KHS had purebred Yorkshire Terriers, German Shepherds, Pomeranians, Cocker Spaniels, Shih Tzus and a Pug – all in need of love. The dogs were immediately cleaned up and given a full veterinary examination, including some extensive dental work. Everyone arrived happy and (surprisingly) healthy and immediately stole our hearts. These dogs, ranging in age from about two to ten-years-old, have lived their entire lives in cages as breeders. Now they get treats, pets, hugs and walks every day and, as of April 13, 17 of them have found forever homes!

KHS thanks HSUS, Columbia Second Chance, CMHS, the Missouri Department of Agriculture and all other shelters who took in these dogs. Because of organizations like these, we are able to truly make a difference. For information about these special dogs, please call (502) 366-3355.

This rescue was necessary because of Missouri’s Proposition B, which takes effect in November 2011, requiring that all commercial breeders have their dogs examined annually by a veterinarian, provide a larger living space for their dogs, feed their dogs daily and do not breed each dog more than twice in an 18 month period.

Mark Your Calendar for Dog Day at the Park!
April 27 and June 1

The Louisville Bats host Dog Day at the Park at Louisville Slugger Field to raise money for the Kentucky Humane Society. Bring your dog(s) to the ballpark on these special days and join us in the V.I.P (Very Important Puppies) section. Tickets for humans are specially discounted at only $6 per person with dog tickets only $3. Plus, the first 500 dogs (and owners) receive a special doggie treat bag! Tickets may be purchased on the Louisville Bats website or at the gate on the day of the game.

$3 ticket price goes directly to KHS. All dogs must remain on a leash at all times (no exceptions). The V.I.P sections are located in 101-104, Patio Deck, Overlook Deck & Bleachers. All owners must sign a Dog Day Release Form before entering the park.

Shelter Dogs Get New Cages Thanks to One Devoted Employee

Dawn Rowe, a part-time adoption counselor at the Hikes Point Feeders Supply, noticed that the cages in her store were starting to show some age. They had become rusty and were difficult to sanitize, so she decided to do something about it. So she asked Trover Solutions (her full-time employer) and their Corporate Giving Team to help. She explained the situation and why it was important – showing the rusty kennels and sharing personal stories of how she had helped fellow employees re-home or find pets through KHS. Trover Solutions gladly stepped up to help replace the worn cages. Thank you to Trover Solutions for their generosity and to Dawn Rowe for being an amazing part of the KHS family!
